About

The main character is Mikhail Kovalyov, a talented and successful coach in the men's volleyball Super League. He compensates for his extremely short stature with a steep disposition and aggressive behavior. He lives on a grand scale and constantly changes the women he treats as a consumer. Due to another trick, he conflicts with the new president of the Volleyball Federation - a woman. As a result, "big" volleyball is closed for him. Now, in order to get a chance for a comeback, he must lead the women's student team to the leaders of the championship of his native provincial town. This condition is set before him by his mother - an oppressive and domineering woman, in the past a famous volleyball player and the first coach of the woman-president of the Federation. Mikhail needs to overcome himself and learn to respect girls, accept their problems and stop perceiving them only as sexual objects.

About

Happy families are all alike; every unhappy family is unhappy in its own way. - this sentence from Anna Karenina written by the great Russian writer Leo Tolstoy can serve as the epigraph to the documentary series Parents Pain. Perhaps, peace and harmony in one's family is the prime condition of happiness for everybody. However, all of us have different reasons preventing them. It's often hard to agree even with the best loved ones, to share our secrets, grieve and joy with them. Sometimes misunderstanding, arising from the generation gap, can turn into a wide-scale family drama. The project is focused on people, who used to or still have conflicts with their children or parents. They agreed to discuss their problems openly not to wash their dirty linen in public. Some of these people share their problems and worries hoping that somebody will come forward to support them at difficult times. Others talk about their trials, because they believe that their experience will help the rest avoid their
