About

There is an opinion that excessive severity is inherent in the Russian people: no smiles or friendliness to you, and even sayings reflect this national trait. Famous comedians Sergei Svetlakov and Mikhail Galustyan decided to refute the myth of the "non-laugh" -Russians with the help of a new television show, in which amateur artists will try to make the audience stingy about emotions laugh, and they, in turn, will not laugh. The Smile Cam face recognition system will keep track of the participants' emotions, and the prize in this fight will be 1 million rubles!

About

More than 20 young comedians from all over Russia who have not yet earned fame, money, and gigs in fancy clubs finally got the chance to perform in public. Without any censorship or formats pressure. For "STANDUP UNDERGROUND", they have prepared the boldest, most provocative and cutting-edge jokes that will make the audience laugh. Immersing into the underground of national standup will be moderated by Ilya Ovechkin who has already achieved at least fame, if not money. It is him who will have to ignite the audience before the performances of the show participants. In each episode will act 5-6 people with their monologues on the most "spicy" topics. Maybe one of them will become the new standup star. The director of the project is Alexander Nezlobin, and the producer of the show is Sergei Svetlakov.

About

In each episode, the presenters take to the streets of the city, preparing four draws. It is in them that the "jokers" will have to participate in turns. While the first one is playing people, the other three are watching what is happening on the playback and dictating different tasks "in the ear" of a colleague. At the end of the series, the one who will cope with fewer tasks loses. And he will be punished by the three victorious leaders.
